"AMERICAN SOLDIER HAS MADE GOOD"

So Says Secretary Baker to the Press Today

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 17.—Secretary Baker said today: "I appeal to the American people for renewed support for our men in France."
He hoped to make his report to the President today.
Said he: "The American soldier has made good in France. The French and British are uniform in their praise of the soldierly qualities of our men. The big thing for the American people is to give these men their moral and financial support with a firm belief in the right and justice of their fight. The right arm of America is now in France and ready to act. The rest of the body is here in America and it must support the right arm. We must do our duty and in no way can we give better service than by buying Liberty bonds."

BRITISH CLAIM ADVANTAGE IN FLANDERS

(By Associated Press)
London, April 17.—A Reuter dispatch says: There is no change in the Villers sector excepting to relate the terrible slaughter inflicted by the British on the Germans who when ordered to retreat were mowed down by the hundreds. As far as the result in Flanders goes, there has been practically no change in the lines since Tuesday morning. The battle has resulted thus far in British favor. The battle continues with unabated fury.

The Germans Are Smashing Along, Closing in on Ypres--British Drive Germans From Point South of Arras

BRITISH HOLDING AT WYTSCHAETE

(By Associated Press)
London, April 17.—The British at dusk on Tuesday, says a Reuter dispatch, from the British headquarters in France, were advancing in the neighborhood of Wytschaete south of Ypres and were reported again to be holding the ground which they had lost there.

ARTILLERY BATTLE ALONG THE SOMME

(By Associated Press)
Paris, April 17.—Heavy artillery fighting occurred last night on the battlefront between the Somme and the Oise, the war office reports.

GERMANS ADVANCE AS FAR AS ST. ELOI

London, April 17.—According to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Paris, the Germans have advanced from Wytschaete as far as St. Eloi and also have a grip on the southern slope of Mount Kemmel.

With the Ypres Salient in Southwestern Belgium.—Menaced by the continued advance of the Germans on the Lys battle front immediately to the south, the British have begun to withdraw from this advanced line. Today official reports from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters announces what is at least a partial withdrawal from the Ypres sector. The British forward positions east of Ypres have been given up and a new line to the west occupied. The withdrawal was carried out in perfect order without enemy interference. Apparently the retrograde movement is pivoted on the Wytschaete sector where London today reports a successful counter attack carried out upon the Germans who are unofficially reported as having advanced to St. Eloi. St. Eloi is on the old battle line as it existed before the British began their offensive last year. This may be an indication that the British retirement is to the line of the spring of 1917, although such a withdrawal would include the abandonment of the entire Passchendaele position as well as the Messines Ridge area from the greater part of which they have been driven by the enemy in the present battle. It would leave the town of Ypres, however, still in British hands. There seems no danger at present of a retirement on any larger scale than this on the northern end of the Franco-Belgian line as the result of the recent German successes. The line as a whole appears likely to hold as long as the railway communications supporting it are intact. Apparently the security of this communication has been provided for by the massing of large forces in the northwesterly sector of the Lys battle front.

(By Associated Press)
London, April 17.—The British have recaptured Elereine on the northern battle front by a counter attack; it is announced officially. The British position before Ypres has been withdrawn to a new line. South of Arras the Germans were driven out of British trenches into which they had forced their way. Early this morning the German artillery became more active south of the Somme. The British made successful counter attacks in the neighborhood of Wytschaete. Repeated German attacks north of Bailluel were repulsed, the Germans suffering heavy losses. The official statement says: "In consequence of the progress made by the enemy on the Lys front our troops holding our forward positions east of Ypres have been withdrawn to a new line. The withdrawal was carried out deliberately without interference by the enemy."

(By Associated Press)

TWO MEN STEAL 24 DIAMONDS

Boston, April 17.—Diamonds valued at $3000 were stolen late Tuesday afternoon from diamond merchants on the second floor at 376 Washington street. The theft was discovered when trays upon which diamonds had been shown to two well-dressed men about 35 years old were being replaced in the vault after the men had left.
The men, who had previously been in the store, accompanied by a woman to look at diamonds, entered the place just before 6 o'clock and asked to be waited upon by Mr. Weller. Mr. Weller was called and when they told him what they wished he turned them over to a clerk. They were taken into a private diamond salesroom by the clerk and seven trays containing diamonds were shown them. Two of the trays contained diamonds valued at $35,000 and $25,000, the other trays were less expensive assortments.

HUNGARY HESITATES TO ADOPT PLANS

(By Associated Press)

New York, April 15.—Statesmen of Hungary hesitate to adopt the German plan for closer commercial relations between Germany and Austria-Hungary because of the chance that the Entente nations will retaliate by adopting a similar plan of giving preferential consideration to one another, to the exclusion of Austria-Hungary.

"This would permanently divide the world into two hostile camps," it was asserted in a Budapest letter to the Cologne letter. "It may be doubtful whether the Entente nations will be forced to recognize a fixed commercial status between Germany and Austria-Hungary without themselves insisting upon the right to give preferential treatment to each other. Even if it were possible, by forcing all our enemies to their knees to preserve the policy of preferential treatment among the Central Powers, the neutral states certainly would oppose such a plan."

Hungarian industrial, commercial and labor classes are disinclined to effect an economic rapprochement with Germany by means of a tariff union or preferential tariff treaty, asserted the Budapest correspondent. This was partly based on the ground that it was not practicable and would result in a clash of interests, irritation and lessen the sympathy now existing between the Central Powers.

HAVE FOUND MISSING CROWN

London, April 17.—The coronation mantle of the King of Bohemia, which long ago mysteriously disappeared, has just been discovered in a little shop owned by an old woman who has been guarding and treasuring it devotedly, says a Central News dispatch from Prague.

The reappearance of the mantle has caused some excitement and the superstitious see in it a sign from Heaven that in the near future this emblem of ancient sovereignty will be required for its original use.

LONDON HOTELS RESENT CHARGE

London, April 17.—Proprietors of the fashionable restaurants in what is known as the west end have been busy writing letters to the newspapers in an effort to counteract the criticism that they are fleeing the now partly rationed public. The grievance of the public is that they are charged as much and sometimes more for the smaller dishes than they paid for the larger ones before the days of compulsory rationing. Nor have the eating places made any allowance for the fact that they no longer serve sugar and butter. Increased war time cost of labor and

The head of one of the most expensive strand hotels, popular with Americans, takes the line that the gross profits of his place are less than in pre-war days. The increased cost of labor and materials has, he says, made necessary the extra charges for less food. He deals exhaustively with the subject in a letter to his papers, and gives a table which shows that table linen and other articles have been trebled in price since the war.

SUFFERING CATS!! GIVE THIS MANUAL THE GOLD MEDAL

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called "freezone" applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, foot and all, lifts right out.

This drug is a sticky, ether compound, but dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

COL. HEALEY AND STAFF ABROAD

Manchester, April 17.—News was received in Manchester yesterday of the safe arrival at an overseas port of the First Army Headquarters regiment, in command of Col. Michael J. Healey of this city. The complete unit built on the skeleton of the old First New Hampshire Infantry is now "over there," the announcement being made a week ago yesterday of the landing of the vanguard of the Granite state organization. The transport conveying Colonel Healey and staff and part of the regiment turned back to the American sailing point because of engine trouble on their first start.

A card from Colonel Healey was received yesterday, along with scores of others from his regiment, which gave the bare information that a safe landing was made. The regiment had been out two days when the return to an American port was necessary and after a brief period in port the trip was again attempted.

The outfit left Concord for Westfield, Mass., as the First New Hampshire regiment, where most of them were conscripted into the 103d regiment. The remainder were ordered to Camp Green, North Carolina, and was designated as the First Army Headquarters regiment and others were given to recruit it to full war strength with French speaking men. This was accomplished several weeks ago by recruits from Louisiana and western states. Practically all the officers are New Hampshire men.

FOSBICK TRAINING CAMP ACTIVITIES

The Year Book for 1917 about to be issued by the Playground and Recreation Association of America, an organization which has been taken over locally by the Fosbick Commission on Training Camp Activities to carry on its beneficent work for our new armies under the name of War Camp Community Service, reveals the fact that the "Business of Play" for both children and adults has increased instead of diminished on account of the war. This increase has amounted to 18 per cent in the number of playgrounds operated and to 50 per cent in the amount of money spent—$5,500,000.

Many things in the statistics submitted for the year show an awakening in America to the importance of recreation centers—an increase in municipal participation, the extension of play into the winter months, an increasing demand for lighted playgrounds for evening use, the establishment of schools to train play-workers, the raising of the standard of these workers by civil service examinations, the opening of more public school buildings to evening recreation, and the organizing of the work in fifty-two new cities.

The Association reports that nearly nine thousand men and women were employed to direct play at recreation centers throughout the country; that three quarters of a million of boys and girls daily swarmed in the play centers; that more than six hundred playgrounds were open and lighted during the evening; that the average evening attendance throughout the country was more than half a million young people; that some seven hundred school buildings were used for play after school hours; that two hundred public bathing beaches, four hundred public baths and three hundred swimming pools were in use; and that some four thousand playgrounds and neighborhood recreation centers were maintained during 1917.

An to totals, 60 cities specialized in 1917 in brass bands, 60 in orchestras, 200 in community sings, 300 in story-telling, 300 in folk dancing, 100 in pageants, 150 in tramping, 120 in wading, 100 in skating, 60 in camping, 100 in amateur theatricals, 50 in moving pictures, 100 in libraries, 40 in debating clubs, 60 in self-government, 100 in lectures, 175 in gardening, 175 in industrial work, and 25 in Junior Police.

All this experience in interesting boys and girls and grown-up boys and girls in clean, healthy diversion and occupations is now turned into the channel of preserving the physical well-being and stimulating the morale of our soldiers on leave. There has been a real renaissance of the community spirit which will mean much to this country, not only for her armies during the war, but after the war when the work will be carried on and the spirit of health, happiness, kindness and spryly thus engendered will pervade.

PARCELS AWAIT U. S. PRISONERS

Washington, April 16.—Captured American soldiers, arriving in German prison camps, will find American Red Cross emergency food parcels awaiting them, if arrangements already in operation are fully carried out. At the prison camp at Tschel, in West Prussia, fifty-seven miles northwest of the Austrian border, permission has been obtained to store emergency supplies, and 300 ten-pound food parcels have been shipped there from the Red Cross headquarters for relief of prisoners at Bern, Switzerland for distribution to newly arrived prisoners. There are about twenty-five Americans in the Tschel camp at present.

It is hoped that arrangements can be made whereby all or nearly all of the German prison camps will be stocked with similar emergency supplies. There are approximately 200 main prison camps in Germany, and some small detachments of prisoners sent out to do farm labor. The American Red Cross plans to supply all these work camps, as well as others where American prisoners are held, with the necessary food parcels.

MEMBERS OF BAKER'S PARTY

Washington, April 16.—Mr. Baker's companions said they did not doubt that they reflected his feeling when they said that there were complete optimism and confidence among the people of the Entente nations that the war would be won. The secretary was apparently in perfect physical trim, with color in his cheeks and eager to plunge into his duties at Washington. His trip from Europe had been untroubled by submarines, the weather had been ideal, the voyage a beautiful one. Accompanying him were Major General W. M. Black, chief of engineers, U. S. A.; Colonel M. L. Brett, Ordnance Department, U. S. A.; and Ralph Hayes, Mr. Baker's private secretary. Mr. Baker first learned today of the death of Senator Stone of Mississippi. I must

BOLLING MAY HAVE LOST WAY

New York, April 16.—Colonel Raymond C. Bolling, former soldier of the United States Steel Corporation, yesterday reported captured or missing in General Pershing's list of casualties, was last seen on the morning of March 25 driving his automobile in a northeasterly direction from Amiens, according to private dispatches received by former business associates here today. He was accompanied by his chauffeur. The two had spent the night at Amiens. Their destination is not stated in the message but it is believed they were on their way to the Franco-British front to join American troops sent there as reinforcements. The colonel's friends believe that he lost his way, ran into the German lines and was captured. He resigned as solicitor of the Steel Corporation to accept a commission in the aviation section of the army.

He has been interested in aviation for several years and offered his services to the Government. In that branch of the Army long before the United States entered the war, he was commissioned a major in the Reserve Corps and was given charge of the organization of a squadron from New York. Learning that the Government was having difficulty in securing adequate space for a training field, Major Bolling leased one in his own name, paying over a substantial sum.

Boosters and Knockers.

A great deal is said these days about boosting and knocking with reference to the management of cities and towns. And there are few cities and towns that do not have their boosters and knockers, the former meaning men who are ever ready by word and deed to advance the interests of the community, while the latter are men, in many cases well meaning, who are ultra-conservative and inclined to hang back, shrinking from everything involving an unusual expenditure, and thereby serving as a brake on the wheels of progress.

The men who deliberately interfere with the progress of their towns are few. Every good citizen, and especially if he be a property holder, wants to see the town in which he lives and has his interests go forward and not backward.

The trouble is that there are too many men who lack clear vision and foresight in respect to large business affairs. Their own lives have been lived in a small circle, they have done business in a small way, and are honestly alarmed by propositions which call for expenditures that look large to them. With the best of intentions such men are liable to line up on the wrong side of public questions and serve as obstructionists when they ought to have their shoulders to the wheel.

With communities, as with individuals, there are many things desirable which cannot be afforded. It is also possible, with communities as with individuals, to be too timid with reference to expenditures, and through the lack of courage and sound business judgment to miss opportunities that ought to be improved.

The intelligent booster keeps his eyes and ears open and is awake at all times to the interests of the town in which he lives. He is ready to advise and to take advice, and when he sees an opening for a forward step he is ready to take it and does not let a few paltry dollars blind him to the opportunity. Instead of wasting his time in bemoaning the mistakes of the past he is alive to the present and has his eye on the future with all of its possibilities. Men who do this are genuine boosters, whether conscious of the fact or not, and are invaluable assets to the communities in which they live.

What are commonly known as knockers are in most cases merely short-sighted and timid men. In the beckoning hand of opportunity they can see only a bugbear. Out of propositions which mean healthy progress they conjure up, through their diseased imaginations, direful pictures of municipal ruin.

The way to boost, and boost properly, is to study the needs and possibilities of a town and to be ready with a lusty lift whenever there is a legitimate call for one. Such a course cuts the ground from under the knockers' feet by demonstrating the folly of their timidity, and is more likely than any other course to bring them into the progressive ranks, where every well-intentioned citizen belongs.

Portsmouth will make a serious mistake if it fails to bring the police force up to the required strength. Present conditions here call for a force adequate to every demand, and neglect to provide this will prove to be costly economy in the long run. No town making any claim to progressiveness can afford to have its police or fire-fighting forces below the proper standard.

June 5, the first anniversary of the first registration, will be celebrated by opening up the lists to the young men who have reached the age of 21 since June 5, 1917. Let there be no shrinking from the solemn duty that will fall to them on this important occasion.

The British-Canadian recruiting mission is trying to enlist 5,000 British and Canadian subjects in New England within two weeks. The men are here, and if they think as much of their homelands as they profess to they will promptly step forward.

The government should waste no time in analyzing coal to determine "heat values." It should insist on reasonably clean coal being furnished at a reasonable price, which is more than it has done thus far.

Many Chicago golfers have decided to be their own caddies this season in order to release the boys for farm work. Has it occurred to them that they might also get healthful exercise on the farms?

It is said the railroads will come out of government ownership better off than they ever were before. Without doubt that is just what they are expecting.

St. Louis, Mo., has decided that hereafter the proper pronunciation of its name will be St. Lewis. Then why not spell it so?

EDITORIAL COMMENT

War Minister in Russia?
(From the Providence Journal)
Leon Trotsky has now been appointed Minister of War in the Russian Cabinet. But what does Russia want with a war minister?

"Paul Jones," Pacifist!
(From the Providence Journal)
Surely, Paul Jones is a queer name for an American who is called a pacifist to bear.

An Old Stand-By
(From the Albany Journal)
Some of us who are not yet very old can remember the time when bread made of a mixture of wheat and rye flour was regularly sold because there was a demand for it.

Anti-German Russia
(From the Springfield Republican)
It is first-rate news that the Russian main fleet, some 200 ships in all, has escaped from Finland to the protection of Kronstadt. If the Russians were pro-German they might not have taken so much pains to keep from the Germans a fleet which would materially add to the difficulties of the Allies.

"Kultur" Controls Them All
(From the New York Herald)
When it comes to the insatiable acquisitiveness of the state which he worships, every German is a robber under the skin. Now Vorwarts, which has posed as an opponent of the Junkerism and of Pan-Germanism, is shouting as loud as any of them for aggression and theft at the expense of other peoples. When taking a different view it evidently was the sick devil of familiar adage.

Cambridge's First Loyalty
(From the New York World)
The Cambridge (Mass.) Park Board has put Cambridge Common at the service of the Government as a site for barracks for 3000 radio school students. This little park, hard by Harvard College, has always had a sentimental interest as the place where Washington took command of the American Army. Was there nobody to defend it against "invasion" for military uses? Or is civic spirit subordinate to national patriotism in Cambridge?

Improvement on Lynching
(From the Charlotte Observer)
The Bessemer idea for the treatment of pro-Germans suggests the revival during the period of the war of the pillory and stocks. That would serve a more picturesque purpose than the commonplace hitching post. It would look more like doing the thing in an orderly and lawful manner, and the public gathering of citizens would be part and parcel of the performance. Mr. McNabb, who was placarded and posted by the Bessemer citizens, was subjected to an experience he will not be likely to forget, and while it was rough on McNabb it was a more approved form of punishment than lynching.

Ambassador of the American Heart
(From the New York Herald)
It has been well said that there can be no ground for complaint of the public's losing its power over men so long as it can command the service of men like Dr. John Henry Jowett. After seven years as pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, Dr. Jowett yesterday bade farewell to the members of the congregation to which he has ministered, explaining that his return to his homeland is prompted by call to duty. "No soldier," he said, "has had the bugle more imperatively than the summons 'come to me, go, go, go' he goes back to England to do his part toward sustaining the moral and spiritual forces of the nation."

Great as is New York's loss, those who have followed his spiritual leadership know that England's gain will be even greater. As Dr. Jowett said in his farewell address: "The spiritual mood of a people, its moral resources, the deep wells of virtue and godly passion in which alone unshakable springs of endurance can be found—these are the vital things which are going to count in the next few months or years." And no other man can be more helpful in feeding and sustaining the spirit than this great preacher.

Dr. Jowett spoke most feelingly of his love for the American people. "There will be," he said, "no public man in all Britain who will be able to speak with such intimacy as I shall command of the heart of the American people I return as an ambassador of your affections."

He will be an ambassador fortified by knowledge that he enjoys to the full the confidence of the people for whose heart he will speak.

Mexico's Opportunity Has Come
(From the New York Commercial)
(From the Administration bill) to melt down 250,000,000 of the silver dollars now in the Treasury and to fix the price of the metal at $1 an ounce plus, silver mining should enjoy a boom. Old mines will be reopened and prospecting will be stimulated by a minimum price that is about twice the average price of silver during the last twenty years.

If the Mexican Government can maintain order and protect property our Southern neighbors will prosper. Everything they produce commands remunerative prices, and all they have to do is to go to work. As soon as they develop capitalists that they have established a stable government which can and will suppress banditry and at the same time give producers a chance to go ahead, money for industrial enterprises will not be lacking.

Business has improved in Mexico, but stories of bandit raids in Chihuahua and of trouble in the Tampico oil fields crop out often enough to make outsiders doubt Carranza's ability to maintain order. A Mexican robber baron collects money for protection and the Government levies heavy taxes, so the oil companies in the Tampico field do not know where they stand. Bandits hold up trains and steal bullion in Chihuahua. One of the largest mining companies whose shares are listed on the New York Stock Exchange has been unable to work or even to keep in touch with its mines, railroads and timber lands in southern Chihuahua. In some parts of the country the people are prosperous and have plenty of foodstuffs, but communications are so poor and uncertain that famine prevails in one state while there is food for all a few miles away.

Mexico could rehabilitate herself in three years of domestic peace. The rise in silver is the keystone of what should be her industrial structure. If the American Government stabilizes silver at $1 an ounce, all Mexico has to do is to go ahead and produce it and other things the world needs, such as hides, copper, vanilla beans, cotton, wool, cocoa, mineral oils, steel, etc. Opportunity is knocking at Mexico's door more loudly than ever before.

Battles, Not Boycotts
(From the New York World)
Like the lawless punishments of disloyalty reported from the West, which also are inspired by a certain kind of patriotism, some very hot speech-making in support of the war misses the point entirely. It is worth while to correct these mistakes as we go along, for they are prolific of mischief.

In various ways it is proposed that the nations in conflict with Germany, with the help of such neutrals as may be enlisted, establish a commercial boycott of the German Empire. To be effective at the 'cashbox' of hostilities, Senator Owen of Oklahoma presented this suggestion with much vigor in his New York address.

For the benefit of all who applaud such propositions it must be said that the most far-reaching boycott of which the Western Allies and the United States are capable is already in progress. Germany and its vassals are excluded from most of the markets of the world by force. They have little trade with neutrals except those near at hand, on whose part a boycott would mean a declaration of war.

On behalf of the associated democracies this is a fight to make international boycotts and all other forms of strife forever unnecessary or impossible. If with navies and armies these nations cannot exert enough pressure upon commercial and industrial Germany to compel abandonment by the military party of its perpetual menaces and aggressions, what hope would there be for any acts of restraint after a German peace?

Those who have doubts as to the meaning of a peace of this kind should note the fate of Russia, Finland, Ukraine and Roumania. In these countries nobody is advocating a boycott on Germany, because nobody is at liberty to do so. Their conquerors are helping themselves. Even the right of protest has been denied. A sweeping triumph for Imperialism in France would mean the same thing for the Western Allies.

Germany is not to be beaten by threats of what we are going to do after the war. Unless we win this war and win it so thoroughly that there will be no question about it, Germany will determine for itself and for ourselves just what we shall and shall not do. The war once won, as we must win it, we shall have no need of reprisals, since those are the very wrongs we have taken arms against.

Not by boycotts, but by battles, not by exclusion but by conclusion, is the earth to be freed from Prussian terrorism, and it would be well for all our speakers at war meetings to address themselves to that idea exclusively.

REBUILD THE BRIDGE

Failure to rebuild the highway section of the Dover Point bridge means great inconvenience and loss to the people on each side of the Piscataqua. The Boston and Maine railroad has been sinking the public for tolls for years, and now when no other agency of building the bridge is available, for the Boston and Maine to decide to rebuild seems like rank ingratitude for past favors and indulgence. The United States government should see to it that the bridge is promptly rebuilt.—Somersworth Free Press.

OFFER THEIR SERVICES

Members of the New Hampshire Bar Association, in common with other bar associations in the United States have offered their services gratuitously in assisting dependents under the "war risk insurance act" and join in continuing unscrupulous claim agents and pension attorneys that are notifying beneficiaries that they must employ counsel, which is unnecessary. Copies of the letter prepared by the American Bar Association have been sent to local attorneys who have assured the national body that they will do all they can to co-operate in advising claimants free of charge.

The schools close on Friday for the week's spring vacation, made later this year by the fact that Fast Day is a week later than usual.

SOCIAL AT COURT ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Four Leaf Clover Society held a special occasion at the vestry of the Court Street Christian church Tuesday evening, the gathering taking the form of a rubber and clothespin social.

After the usual business meeting of the society at which the president, Mrs. Ethel Orr, presided, those present were given cards with a clothespin attached. On each card was a conundrum or an answer and the young people matched these up and found their partner for supper in this way. A good supply of worn rubbers was brought in and sold to a junk man during the evening, a neat sum being realized in this way.

The supper was served in the church parlor, the inviting menu consisting of salads, rolls, pickles, assorted cake and coffee. At its conclusion games were enjoyed and the evening was one of social interest to all of the gathering.

The affair was in general charge of Mrs. Marion Paul, Theodore Hunt and Mrs. Ethel Orr.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Editor—I have, from time to time, seen articles in the Herald requesting people to contribute reading matter for the boys in France. Now, no doubt there are many people in the outlying districts who would be pleased to do this, but neglect, owing to the difficulty in picking and sending it. So could not some person be appointed in each town to collect reading matter once a month for this purpose, box it up and send it to some point where it would be sorted and shipped to France. No doubt if a place was appointed to receive it, many would leave it in person, and also contribute small sums towards shipping it to its destination.

Very truly,
MRS. ADIE S. TOBEY,
Kittery Point, Me., April 11, 1918.

(Any reading matter for the soldiers in France will be gratefully received at the Public Library and the same forwarded to France and other places for distribution among the men.—Ed.)

They reported at the station on Tuesday.

Ensign McCormick Returns
Ensign McCormick of the naval prison has returned from a five days' leave passed in the mountains.

May Change Blouse
Whether the regulation uniform blouse now worn by all officers in the navy will be changed to the style worn by the officers in the English navy will depend on the vote now being polled by the officers on request of the department. While the department does not say that the change will be made, it is understood that it is in favor of it on the ground that the blouse now worn is buttoned up so close to the throat that it causes throat trouble. On the other hand the officers' objection to the English blouse is that on account of the lapels being thrown back they will be compelled to wear a white standing collar and white shirt if it is adopted, and will not be so comfortable.

Daniels Makes Air Trip
Secretary Daniels took his first trip in the air on Tuesday at Washington where he made a twenty minute flight in a hydro-airplane with Lieut. Doherty, a naval aviator.

Genels Washington

DOVER'S OPPORTUNITY

The request of Manager Hewins of the shipyard at Newington for the co-operation of the people of this city affords Dover a splendid opportunity to advance its own interests and at the same time assist in winning the war. Mr. Hewins says Dover is the logical home for the majority of the employer at his plant, providing the connecting bridge at Dover Point is rebuilt and that this community can furnish the necessary quarters.

Dover has been envying Portsmouth with its new steel shipyard when we have had right at our door an enterprise of as great importance as the business at Freeman's Point. The impression had been gained, however,

MRS. TANBERG HEADS DOVER WOMAN'S CLUB

Dover, N. H., April 17.—Mrs. Mary L. Wood of Portsmouth addressed the Dover Woman's club at its annual meeting Tuesday on the work of the Woman's Council of National Defense. These officers were elected: Mrs. Ella M. S. Tandberg, president; Mrs. Ida M. Viles, Mrs. Carrie E. Kingsbury, vice presidents; Miss Bessie L. Parker, recording secretary; Mrs. Daisy L. Benedict, corresponding secretary; Miss Helen J. Junkins, treasurer; Mrs. Leola L. Plummer, auditor; Mrs. Bertha E. Glendon, Mrs. Frances Cushing, Mrs. Alice I. Towle, Mrs. Juliet Twombly, directors.

Mrs. Tandberg is the wife of the Rev. Otis Tandberg, pastor of the Pierce Memorial Universalist church. Her experience as a club woman spans a period of 26 years. Her most notable club achievement perhaps, was the organization by her of the Federation of Women's clubs of the District of Columbia, comprising 1000 members. She was its first president, serving three years, 1921-23.

FIREMEN HOLD BIG BANQUET

The members of the Portsmouth Fire Department with the Mayor and members of the City Council, and their guests, held a get-together banquet at Freeman's annex on Tuesday evening which was a very pleasant occasion.

The banquet was arranged by Chief Woods, the Board of Engineers and a committee from the different companies and practically every fireman in the city was present. The guests were Mayor Samuel T. Ladd, members of the City Council, city officials and the officers and members of the York Fire Department, by the way a progressive and hustling outfit.

Hodgdon entered and served the following menu:

Roast Turkey
Mashed Potatoes Escalloped Oysters
Squash Celery
Rolls Assorted Cakes
Ice Cream Coffee Cigars

When cigars were reached Chief Woods who acted as toastmaster, called upon several speakers, including Mayor Ladd, members of the Council, the Chief and Assistant Chiefs of the York Department, and the captains of the local companies, all making brief remarks.

Guthrie orchestra furnished music during the evening.

BEEF TAKES ANOTHER JUMP

The price of beef has again advanced in the past 24 hours and this time instead of 1-2 cents advance it has gone up 3-4 cents and many local provision dealers have refused to handle it at the present price. Rump and sirloin steak will have to sell for 50c a pound, and round 40 cents, and top 35 cents. Lamb and yearlings have fared along with the beef and the price is the highest ever known, now selling by the whole carcasses at 36 cents and yearlings at 28 cents, when formerly the price was 10 cents lower by the carcass. This being the case, the market will be relieved some. Poultry is still in the extreme high price class, but fish is reasonable in price and within the reach of the workman. Vegetables at present are more reasonable than for the past three years.

DINNER FOR FOUR COSTS 25 CENTS

Liverpool, April 17.—Liverpool, the second largest city in England, is leading the whole country in solving the food shortage problem. It has municipal kitchens which are models. It sets every other city in the country an example by maintaining a municipal potato peeling plant and cooking the potatoes for the bakers to mix with their flour.

There are 11 municipal cookshops where a family of four might take away a satisfying dinner for 25 cents. Stewed steaks, potatoes and puddings are the principal articles.

At the foot depots a person can buy for a cent a great bucket of boiling water in order to save coal.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Color, Lustre and Youthfulness To Hair When Faded, Streaked or Gray

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it works so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This beauty-to-use preparation is a delightful, safe requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WHERE DOES THE PORTSMOUTH COMPANY FIT?

The governor and council have voted to pay the expenses of the state guard companies of Concord, Nashua, Haverhill, Franklin and Keene which are to march in the big Liberty Loan parade at Manchester next Saturday afternoon. There will be eight companies of the state guard in the parade, including the three Manchester companies. The state also will pay for a band to march at the head of the state guardsmen division of the parade.

URGEL LODGE AS CHAIRMAN

Washington, April 17.—Democrats of the senate in the opinion of leading Republicans, have through the death of Senator Stone, a great opportunity to demonstrate patriotism and non-partisanship in selecting a new chairman of the foreign relations committee.

The Republican leaders propose that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts be elected to the chairmanship, sweeping aside party lines and the time honored senate right of succession.

Senator Lodge is the ranking Republican member of the committee in years of service. The Republicans point to his loyal record in the war, and urge that now is afforded an opportunity for the administration to demonstrate its non-partisanship concerning which there has been so much talk but little action.

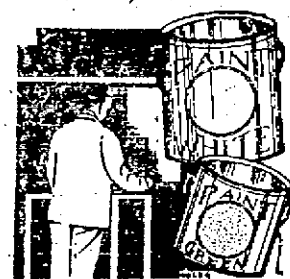

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the ranking Democratic member of the committee, is entitled to the chairmanship by right of succession.

"Valuable--Keep In A Safe Place"

Some of you people who are talking of economy just because the prices of chickens and butter and eggs and things have reached figures that make a catch in your breath when the grocer names them, listen to a little talk here that's full of commonsense.

Food to be appetizing should not only be well cooked but well kept before it is cooked; there are also leftovers—you know what a "left-over" is don't you?—and instead of throwing these away put them back in the refrigerator and serve under a different name and in a different way the next time.

But the main thing is to have a refrigerator that is right, one with low temperature, perfect circulation, and by all means with one-piece porcelain lining for the food compartments—no cracks or crevices for germs to lodge—not a zinc lining or a painted interior.

The cost? Way below what you would think! Good looking refrigerators, too! You wouldn't be ashamed to have one in your dining room, and if you take the interest in it that something tells us you will take you may put it there—who knows?

Save food and in so doing help to win the war.

OIL EMBARGO MAY RUIN ALL ROADS

Supt. Gerald Cullen of the Board of Public Works, is greatly worried over the notice he has received that an embargo has been declared on the shipment of road oil by the railroads.

If this holds good and the city is unable to secure the road oil, that it has contracted for, it will mean a big loss to the city in the maintenance of the roads and streets about the city.

Supt. Cullen points out that under the present automobile traffic, no road other than a paved road or street will stand the wear and tear of one season without the use of some bituminous surface treatment and patching.

The Board of Public Works has arranged for the shipment of oil here for the street and road oiling, but this embargo will stop all of this and at the present time it is not known what will be done.

That the situation is critical for the roads, is plainly seen from the tone of an interview in the Municipal Journal by Col. William D. Schler, Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, one of the authorities on roads in the country. He says in part:

"If that ruling is continued in force, we shall lose in this state and many others thousands of miles of good macadam road that can only be maintained with bituminous surface treatments and bituminous patching. Every one knows that these materials have come in you cannot maintain macadam or gravel even for a few months without the use of some bitumen. The same is true in England and France. England is using more tar than ever since the war began. She cannot get the asphalt, but she has over 40,000 miles of road treated with tar surface applications, and several thousand miles built of bituminous concrete.

I cannot conceive today of anything more important than the main highways and the older ones, if not built of concrete, bituminous macadam or like pavement cannot be maintained or even properly patched without the use of some bitumen.

If we cannot get these bitumens, and get them early, it is certain, I think, that at least 500 miles of state highways, and many times as many miles of improved county and town ways on improved main routes, will be destroyed before fall. Millions of dollars will be lost in this state alone. The main roads will become impassable in many places. They will have to be entirely rebuilt, and they cannot be in these times at less than $30,000 to $100,000 a mile, even if you could secure the labor and materials.

In some cases, all the road requires is a few barrels of oil or tar for slight patching. In other cases, one tank car will provide enough for two to three miles of surface treatment. Three or four tank-cars or four box-cars will provide enough bituminous material to construct or reconstruct a mile of bituminous macadam or bituminous gravel or sand road.

It will be disastrous if we cannot get bitumens. Think of the thousands of miles of road destroyed, dust every where running crops and fruits, and the millions upon millions of dollars required next year to rebuild the roads. I think some states would lose as much as or more than Massachusetts."

TO RUSH MIDDLE ST. JOB

The work on the paving job on Middle street which was started Monday is making good progress and from the number of men engaged, and the amount of material on hand it looks as though good speed would be made.

The Boston and Maine railroad contractors have started work on the street car rails and they have all of their material here and should be able to make good progress.

The street should be closed for travel, which could be done without any great hardship on the residents, and it would greatly facilitate the work. Every effort should be made to get this job done before the summer travel begins, and if closing the street will mean weeks in the finishing time, as the contractors claim, it should be done.

SOLDIERS ALLOTMENTS COMING SLOW

The Civilian Relief Committee of the Red Cross is having its hands full straightening out the allotments from the enlisted men to their dependants. In many cases they have come through in regular order, while in many more they are months behind. Some are four and five months late in getting their allotments, while others have received only partial allotments or skip an occasional allotment.

As fast as possible each case is taken up with Washington, but owing to the great mass of work there, it is weeks before an answer is received and then more weeks before any action is secured. Where there is actual need the Red Cross office loans or furnishes aid until their allotments arrive. It means endless correspondence in some cases to get any action whatever. The state aid is secured through this committee also, but this is rapidly giving way to the national aid.

SPORT NOTES OF INTEREST

Four teams from the Portsmouth navy yard will enter the Service League this summer. The teams now being organized at the navy yard are the following: Naval, (Paymaster Thompson, manager), Naval Reserve, U. S. S. Sperry, Marines. It is also probable that Port Constitution will be represented. The Naval Reserve boys say they will have a former East-ern League battery, while the Marines say they have a pitcher who will make them all take notice. The Service League was a great success last summer, the games being played at the South Playgrounds.

George Dughey, the Boston wrestling promoter, announces that he has secured options on the services of Joe Turner, holder of the Fox gold belt Sam Reubens, now at the Great Lakes naval station, Prof. Bobby Mainford and Paul Boyser of Newark, Ohio. In addition to several other heavyweights, and is casting around for a suitable opponent for Cyclone Burns.

Walter Woods assumed his duties as coach of the local high school baseball team Tuesday afternoon and was quite pleased with the work of the boys. P. H. S. will play the first game of the 1918 schedule Saturday afternoon when they tackle Amesbury high in this city. This regular lineup has not been decided on as yet but will be given out in a day or two. Captain Smith says the team will be the strongest that has represented the school in years and everything points to a successful season.

John Kilonis is about the busiest man in the game, wrestling about four nights a week. He will meet Soldier Katorov at Portland tonight, and Friday night is booked to wrestle Pat McCarthy of Boston at Norway, Me. Pat is a fair wrestler but hasn't a Harvard boasts 53 varsity athletes in the government military service. Yale has 55 and Dartmouth 51 exclusively among New England institutions.

If Portsmouth baseball fans come across with the necessary support, some excellent Saturday afternoon games will be seen here the coming summer. Henry Cragen has received a number of communications from managers of well-known Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts semi-professional teams who wish to arrange for games in this city. It is the plan to bring one of these clubs to this city each week, and if the venture is supported, the games will continue throughout the season.

Martin Postina, the western wrestler continues to issue offers to throw three or four of the top-notchers in one night for the benefit of the Red Cross. Martin has offered all kinds of inducements to the headliners but none of them seem to care about taking a chance.

The first large shipment of athletic equipment by college athletes to American troops in France included 5000 dozen baseballs, 1999 bats, 6000 fielders' gloves, 1999 dozen indoor baseballs, 3500 footballs, 4800 soccer footballs, 1200 sets of boxing gloves and 1800 volley balls.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

If Guy Morion doesn't weaken, the Clevelanders will be near the top in pitching skill. Stanley Coveleskie and Jim Bagby are the mainstays.

Price, the Washington's best hitter, has been called in the draft and has left the team.

Ty Cobb says that the Tigers will finish first or second this year. He adds that his team must beat out the White Sox.

Nearly 100 major league players now are in the army or navy.

Hugo Bezdek declares that the Pirates are 50 per cent stronger than last fall, due to the acquisition of Gatchaw, Stengel, Saton and Earl Hamilton.

Jack Coombs not only will quit playing next fall but will decline all managerial offers.

Baseball is all the rage among Uncle Sam's soldiers, both in this country and in France.

Last year's International League players now in the big circuit include Thomas, May, Whitman, Gih and Smith of the Red Sox; Hearne, Powell and Reag of the Braves; Lamar, Thompson, McGraw and Fowler of the Yankees; Kopp, Shannon and Gregg of the Athletics; Shellenbach of the White Sox; Geyner, Blackburn and Allen of the Reds; Getz, Williams, Euzmann and Wilkinson of the Clevelanders; Thompson of the Washingtons; McGaffigan and Brandell of the Phillies; Rodriguez and Young of the Giants; and Barber of the Cubs.

BURGLARS IN KITTERY

The restaurant of William Snow in Kittery was broken into sometime during Monday night, and ransacked. Mr. Snow claims he lost at least $3.00 in small coins from places where he left it, and that more had undoubtedly been taken from a mechanical piano.

Two boys, Dennis F. Gamble and Edmund Littlefield, both of Kittery, were arrested during Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff James K. Boardman, and they were arraigned in the municipal court in Kittery Tuesday evening. The boys were without counsel or parents present, and Judge Shaw continued the cases until Thursday evening in order that they might be properly represented, or that their families might have an opportunity to learn of the cases as they stand.

They were held in $300 each, on their personal recognizance, for the further hearing.

DARTMOUTH LINE-UP FOR OPENING GAME

Manover, April 17.—Preparatory to the initial trip of the season, Coach Ranney of the Dartmouth varsity line has announced his complete line-up for the opening game Friday, Springfield, V. M. C. A. college is to be the Green's first opponent, and a double header will be played at Springfield on the holiday. The only other contest scheduled for the trip comes with Yale at New Haven on Saturday.

In all probability Jim Bradley of Manchester will be one of the three regular twisters taken along. Next to Jack Hase of Melrose, the football and hockey star, he looks like the most promising hurler in the mound.

Ross has shown by far the best form in the box to date and is practically certain of starting the opening game with Springfield. He and his brother Frank, a freshman, make up the most dependable battery that Coach Ranney can send on the field. Harris, a freshman, at present ineligible is the logical choice for third twister, but if scholastic difficulties keep him out of the game the selection will lie between Noyes and Travis of the sophomore class.

The main strength of the nine will lie in the all-1917 infield, composed of Grey, Gale, acting Captain Murphy and Martin. The 1918 freshman team was built around this combination and with the unit still intact, perfection of team work is still insured for the Green throughout the season. Murphy at shortstop and Martin at third make up the strongest defense for the last available at Dartmouth in years. In addition, both are strong at bat, Murphy being selected as lead-off man, with Martin in third place on the order. Gale, the choice for second base, beat out "Ginger" Bruce of Portsmouth for the place only after a close tussle. Pete Gray, who is to hold down the initial sack, is the weakest of the infield quartet at the bat, but his perfect fielding gives him a clear claim to the position.

This district will be called upon to furnish eight men for the new draft called for May first. They will make 55 men this district has furnished on the second draft while some of the states are still working on their first draft quota.

NO AMERICANS LANDED IN SIBERIA

Washington, April 16—In giving out today the text of a statement made at Volodga by Ambassador Francis, the State Department made it clear that the landing of Japanese and British forces at Vladivostok was not in pursuance of an international agreement, but merely was for the purpose of protecting Japanese and British interests.

The ambassador's statement, issued on April 10 said that no Americans had been landed. It was given out by the State Department in denial of reports that Mr. Francis had declared the incident was due to an agreement. Despatches to the Navy Department today from Rear Admiral Knight, commander of the American Asiatic fleet, and to the State Department from consular representatives, made no mention of American forces having been landed, and officials now are convinced that the report from Harbin of a landing was started by refugees from Vladivostok, who perhaps saw a party of American marines on shore leave.

The statement by Mr. Francis was given out by the State Department reads:

"The American ambassador, upon being asked what was the position of his Government concerning the landing of Japanese and British marines at Vladivostok, said:

"The Soviet Government and the Soviet press are giving too much importance to the landing of these marines, which has no political significance, but merely was a police precaution taken by the Japanese admiral on his own responsibility for the protection of Japanese life and property in Vladivostok, and the Japanese admiral, Kato, so informed the American ambassador, Knight, and the American consul, Caldwell, in Vladivostok. My impression is that the landing of the British marines was pursuant to the request of the British consul for the protection of the British consulate and British subjects in Vladivostok, which he anticipated would possibly be jeopardized by the unrest which might result from the Japanese landing.

Are You Doing Anything To Help Win The War?

The Fuel Administration says we must save Fifty Million tons of coal in 1918. They say the kitchen range is largely responsible for the coal shortage last year. Estimates show the average family uses about 1000 pounds of coal monthly for cooking. To produce gas for the same amount of cooking only about 300 lbs. are used at the central station. You must realize that by the use of gas you are helping save the coal. We are always ready to show you how you can save both coal and money by the use of gas.

"The American consul did not ask protection from the American cruiser in Vladivostok harbor and consequently no American marines were landed. This together with the fact that the French consul at Vladivostok made no request for protection from the British American or Japanese cruisers in the harbor, unquestionably demonstrates that the landing of Allied troops is not a concerted action between the Al-

GETTING READY FOR 1920 CENSUS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 17—Congress will soon be faced with the necessity of providing millions of dollars for the 1920 census.

Just what inquiries will be made at every American home is the problem now being worked out before determining upon the exact appropriation needed. Census Director Rogers estimates that the total cost of the census, including the annual and other inquiries occurring during the decennial census period, if done in accordance with plans the census bureau has formulated will not exceed $20,000,000. The estimated cost of taking the population, the bureau's plans contemplate the usual elaborated inquiries on manufacturers, agriculture, mines and quarries, annual special inquiries and other work. This includes vital statistics of cities and states, tobacco, cotton and cottonseed products. Taken collectively, Director Rogers says that the estimated cost of various lines of work, would run, manufactures, mines and quarries, $2,933,000; agriculture, $6,049,000; mostly for field work; population, $10,140,000. The expenditures for the census of 1920 were about $16,600,000.

The Census Bureau is receiving a great many suggestions for extension of the usual field of national enumeration. There has been a great demand to know the stock of hides, of leather and manufacture of saddles, shoes, boots, belting and leather goods that it was deemed essential to get at once the leather output, including wool drawn from the hides of kids and sheep that goes into the manufacture of woolen goods. The Tanners Council, an organization of the tannery owners is getting that information now and furnishing it to the government at a cost of $30,000 to $50,000. They collect statistics of raw material different kind of leather, amount in stock as well as the cured or finished product, but the Census Bureau purposes to ascertain more than that. The bureau wants to know the uses to which the raw material and manufactured product are to be put, the stock on hand, consumption by the manufacturers and the prospect of a having a supply for the country's future needs, all of which derives into the field of shoes, boots, saddles, belting, harness and many finished products of value. The census will gather this information by mail and through the special agents.

Despite criticism of belated census reports in past years, Director Rogers says the population of the United States could be ascertained, and made public in less than six months, and likewise the number of farms by the counties and by states and that any other information on which the government wanted quick results could be sent out promptly. He says the fuel administration war council board, tariff commission and internal revenue bureau make daily use of the census facts.

He says the fuel administration war council board, tariff commission and internal revenue bureau make daily use of the census facts.

criticism of a limiting provision proposed by the census bureau that "in no case shall information furnished under the authority of this act be used, to the detriment of the person or persons to whom such information relates." Representative Miller, of Washington, contended that the information should be permitted such use as a court or governor might see fit, as it is not a judicial or quasi-judicial proceeding. Representative Houston of Tennessee contends the clause is futile.

Director Rogers thinks the individual has the personal right to keep private information from other persons; that manufacturers for instance, are willing to tell the census about their business for statistical purposes but do not want publicity of it and, if they knew it were to be published, they would not give the information at all or would do so under protest. Chairman Hiram, of the committee, believes they do not want to give their trade secrets away.

"An individual informs the census of his father, and mother, and where he was born and where he lived at a certain time," explained Mr. Rogers. "Now in the selective draft he is questioned about his age, nationality and identity. That man is to be prosecuted upon the statement he made to the census. I would refuse to give information to anyone other than to the local constituted authority for the annoyance or prosecution of that man. If the court want to issue an order that the state's interests are involved and it is my duty to certify the record as it was given at a particular time, I would do so. The same kind of a question comes up as to an estate and the census does not want to be used in the courts to the prejudice of any man who makes a confidential statement. It is now discretionary with the director."

Director Rogers said he would not protest against elimination of the disputed provision.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

To see the thrice of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, congested tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully purifying. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that. These who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

WOMEN SCRAPPING ON RUSSELL STREET

Will Face Each Other Again in Police Court This Afternoon.

It was chuck day in a meat market on Russell street on Tuesday when Mrs. Peloski Helachuck and Mrs. Amelia Dintchuck were chucking all kinds of words at each other over a chuck steak in the emporium of Samuel Towle. The proprietor thought the chuck had chucked long enough and he politely chuckled them out into the open where they continued the argument. The noise attracted a crowd in the street and finally Peloski chuckled her fist in Amelia's face and Amelia is said to have chuckled her opponent with an uppercut. When the smoke cleared away Amelia Dintchuck rushed to the police headquarters, got out a warrant and the patrol wagon hurried to the front line trenches where the cops chuckled Peloski in for a ride. All the spectators that were at the chuck fest who could be found were summoned by one side or the other for the finale in the local hall of Justice this afternoon at 3 o'clock.
